

Andy Pollock

apollock@remboltlawfirm.com

Andy, a partner with the firm, practices primarily in government relations. He is a registered lobbyist before the Nebraska Legislature, representing a diverse array of clients. He also represents clients before state agencies, assisting with both regulatory matters and procurement. The former Executive Director of the state's Public Service Commission, Andy has a thorough knowledge of State Government, its processes and key leaders. He has a reputation for excellent strategic and policy-focused advocacy.

PRACTICE AREAS

- Agriculture
- Government and Lobbying
- Litigation
- Telecommunications and Utilities

ADMISSIONS

- Nebraska

EDUCATION

- University of Nebraska – Lincoln, Bachelor of Journalism, with distinction, 1988
- University of Nebraska – Lincoln, Juris Doctor, with distinction, 1992

PROFESSIONAL/COMMUNITY

- Nebraska Chamber of Commerce & Industry, Public Affairs Council (2007-present)
- Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, Board Member (2016-present)
- Nebraska Federation of Business Associations, Member (2012-present)
- Nebraska State Bar Association, Member (1992-present)

SUCSESSES

- 2016: Andy successfully led efforts to kill legislation that would have allowed cities to take over control of local libraries, threatening privacy protections and First Amendment rights.
- 2015: On behalf of local cab companies, Andy played an integral part in drafting and negotiating legislation that established a regulatory playing field for transportation network companies like Uber and Lyft.
- 2014: Andy negotiated a compromise that allowed for passage of a bill that will provide for treatment of children with autism.
- 2013: Tackling another natural gas pipeline issue, Andy was the primary lobbyist who drafted and advocated for LB589, a bill that allows natural gas utilities to take immediate action to repair leaking pipelines that present a critical risk to public safety.